

Eat Out All Week Long

TrustedPlaces.com, the social network for people's interests and favourite places launches, with tastelondon, the TrustedPlaces Card giving you 50% discounts or 2 for 1 deals in over 300 restaurants across London!

TrustedPlaces, a London based Web 2.0 start-up, has re-launched with a new urban look and feel. Not only did the site get a new lick of paint and more cool functionality but it is now offering its members the opportunity to get 50% discounts or 2 for 1 deals in over 300 restaurants across London with the TrustedPlaces- tastelondon card.

The TrustedPlaces - tastelondon card was invented as both companies recognised that they share a common passion for good food, in cool places and at great prices!

“Partnering with tastelondon was really a no-brainer for us. Taste London has a unique offering and relationship with restaurants, whilst TrustedPlaces has a thriving community of members who are passionate about sharing their experience with the wider community. With the TrustedPlaces card we can now reward our top members with a free card ensuring they can continue doing what they do best... eating out and writing honest reviews” says Walid Al Saqqaf, co-founder of TrustedPlaces.

Jamie Milner, from tastelondon continued “To say we were impressed with the Trusted Places concept would be an understatement, and tastelondon is clearly a perfect offering for the members. The fact that the Trusted Places-tastelondon card now allows Trusted Places best members to eat out twice as much as they would normally means they will review and recommend twice as much too! We are confident that this unique partnership is a real winner - benefiting all involved” says Jamie Milner from Taste London.

To get the card for free TrustedPlaces members can either write great reviews and/or invite their friends onto the site to spread the word. . By doing so they collect reward points, They are entitled to a card once they reach the 1000 points limit. For more information please visit our FAQs for more information. In the near future everyone will also be able to get the same great deals by purchasing the card from TrustedPlaces.com

About TrustedPlaces

“Join the word of mouth revolution... and find great places by real people.”
TrustedPlaces is a social network around people’s interests and favourite places. It is the people’s, local guide to original and undiscovered bars, excellent restaurants and traditional pubs that constitute the hidden gems in cities like London. Through TrustedPlaces, business owners can also gain valuable insights into what their customers think about their venue and also attract new customers by interacting with an engaged, targeted audience amplifying word of mouth for their business.
